

RUSSIAN, EAST EUROPEAN, AND CENTRAL ASIAN STUDIES, CERTIFICATE

The Certificate in Russian, East European, and Central Asian studies provides students with knowledge of the societies and cultures of the peoples of Eastern Europe and Eurasia, drawing on the disciplines of anthropology, communication arts, economics, folklore, geography, history, language and literature, law, political science, and sociology. The certificate can be a valuable addition to a major in business, economics, education, geography, history, international studies, political science, Slavic languages and literature, and others.

At least two years of a Slavic, East European, or Central Asian language are strongly recommended for the certificate, but are not formally required. Read about the languages (<https://languages.wisc.edu/languages/>) taught at UW–Madison.
